A Life Like Yours

A Life Like Yours is a video that shares the story of Maddie, who reminds us of the dignity and joy that can be found in every human life. It premiered before 18,000 people at the Youth Rally and Mass for Life, held at the Verizon Center in Washington, DC on January 22, 2010. This video was produced in collaboration with NCPD by the Office of Special Needs and the Life Issues Department of the Archdiocese of Washington. We commend Peg Kolm, the video's producer, who is the Archdiocese's Coordinator in the Office of Ministry for Persons with Disabilities and NCPD's part-time Director of Development. Preview of Oct. NCPD Webinar Topic Advanced Considerations: Threats to the Lives of People with Disability, Part I, Poor Prenatal Diagnosis

Marianne is a peer minister with Be Not Afraid, a parish-based ministry supporting parents in the Diocese of Charlotte who are carrying to term following the diagnosis of a lethal or disabling condition affecting their unborn child. Below is a letter she wrote to a mom who had just received a prenatal diagnosis of Down syndrome. (For purposes of this article, personal information was removed from the letter.) She begins:

“Dear Fellow Mom,

I feel compelled to write to you. I know nothing about you except that we share one common thread. We both received a Down syndrome diagnosis while pregnant. Mine came in the Spring of 2008 when I was 11 weeks pregnant with my fourth child. I can tell you two absolute truths. Number one is that Adam (now 16 months) and my three other children are the lights of my life. Number two is that if anyone had told me I would feel that way about him while I was still pregnant, I would never have believed them.” Click here for more of her letter

Voices of Faith

Check out the uplifting section of our NCPD website called Voices of Faith (click here). We recently added a story called “A Place to Call Home” which was written by Diocese of Richmond Parish Advocate Karen Jackson, from Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church in Norfolk, who is also Director of the Faith Inclusion Network (FIN) of South Hampton Roads. You won’t want to miss this inspiring piece about her daughter, Samantha which begins, “Hand in hand, we slip as quietly as possible into the sanctuary to receive communion at the Saturday evening Mass. First, we stop at the baptismal font to bless ourselves. I carefully guide my daughter’s hand into the warm Holy Water and, hand over hand; helped her to make the sign of the cross.

Next is the more difficult part.”

Down Syndrome Patients Could Unlock Secrets of Aging

Questions seem to arise too often regarding the value and purpose of lives of people with disabilities. We tragically hear that 90% of pregnancies with a prenatal diagnosis of Down syndrome end in abortion. As people of faith, we strongly believe in the value of all life. As friends and/or families with people who have a member with Down syndrome, we can attest personally to the enrichment our lives have gained through our relationship with people having this disability. A recent article in USA Today provides even more reason to value the contributions which come through the lives of people with Down syndrome. See more...

Diocesan/Partner News and Notes

World Youth Day-Madrid

Dorothy Coughlin, Archdiocese of Portland in Oregon reminds us to make sure to reach out to youth with disabilities to attend World Youth Day-Madrid with your diocesan groups. There is a special Disability Team that has been established to coordinate services for the smooth integration of youth with a variety of disabilities. This collaborative team is eagerly preparing for WYD and hopes to create an atmosphere where youth with disabilities are not only included, but comfortable. View article...

Autism, Disabilities and Faith in Utah Legislature

Carol Ruddell, Diocese of Salt Lake Disability Commission shares the good news on the Utah House Concurrent Resolution: Autism, Disabilities and Faith. The Utah legislature passed a resolution recognizing a week in April/May as Autism, Disabilities and Faith Week. It's a first! To see the Resolution, go to <http://le.utah.gov/~2010/htmdoc/hbillhtm/HCR009.htm>. There you can see the actual Bill text and how it has moved along. It basically passed unanimously in both houses, with some folks being absent.

Note from NCPD to Carol upon her mentioning that their Commission was going to explore ways the diocese can highlight disability during April and May (also signified as Mental Health Month). "Maybe your commission would like to encourage parishes to show our Welcomed and Valued video and have a panel discussion of some people who live with mental illness or family members. The video is 27 minutes long, and has been very well received."

Inclusion Tip

Marsha Rivas, Diocese of Toledo brings to us a tip sheet this month that she received from the Diocese of Columbus, and encourages us all to remember to keep couples who have a child with disability in special prayers this month.

Marriage and a Special-Needs Child: Tips for Meeting the Challenge

Carolyn called me to discuss her marriage to Tom. “We were like a lot of couples. It used to be hard to find time for each other what with work and the boys, but when our Jimmy was diagnosed with profound autism, it was like a bomb went off.” Click here for the tip sheet.

Dolores Wilson, Director of Bethlehem House, Shares Beatitudes Reflection

“Blessed are those who weep, for they shall be comforted.” Jean Vanier reminds us that each Beatitude draws us closer to the Heart of Jesus. We begin to see with our own hearts and minds the humanness of the one who became our Savior.

During the time of the Journey of Jesus, we have read in the Gospels how he wept over Jerusalem and how inconsolable he was when his friend Lazarus died. Often, there was no place to lay his head at the end of the day. Perhaps, he wept tears of yearning for his Mother and the home they shared.

Journal about a time when tears lifted us out of our selfishness to the realization of the grace of the comfort of the Holy Spirit.” To see the entire article, click here.

The Father Factor: Understanding the Special Needs of Fathers

Anne Masters from Newark is co-hosting with St. John the Evangelist parish on Wednesday, May 5, 2010 from 7:00-9:00 p.m., an event which focuses on the needs of fathers.

What does a man do with a problem that he can't fix? Men and women often look at the same thing differently, and raising a child with special needs is no exception. This presentation will explore the unique perspective that men bring to parenting a child who is not "typical." Participants will be guided in expressing their thoughts and feelings in a structured format. The presenter utilizes video and discussion to illustrate common challenges and facilitate discussion. Year for Priests: Fr. Dave Duffeck

Some people see Fr. Dave Duffeck's quad cane as a symbol of his disability. But Fr. Duffeck, who has a permanent spinal cord injury, sees the four-footed cane as a bridge.

He explained that the cane, which he uses to help him walk, bridges the distance between him and his parishioners, especially those who also suffer from physical or emotional challenges.

"They see that you struggle and they know you understand their struggles," he said. "It helps me in my pastoral work very much. That's the blessing."

Fr. Duffeck was installed as pastor of St. Joseph and St. Mary parishes in Oneida Feb. 20 by Bishop David Ricken. Ordained in 2006, he served as associate pastor at St. Francis Xavier and St. Mary parishes in De Pere before being appointed to his first pastorate last summer.

While he admits that his physical limitations do change his approach to ministry, Fr. Duffeck believes it has helped form a special bond with his parishioners." Read more... Bishops Encourage Vigilance that Health Care Legislation Protects Conscience and Does Not Fund Abortion

- Applaud efforts to expand health care to all.
- Emphasize need to guarantee federal money does not go to abortion.
- Need to address flaws in health reform plan just signed into law.

March 23, 2010 Washington---The U.S. bishops called on Congress and people in the Catholic community to make sure promises are kept that new health care legislation will not expand abortions in the United States.

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) Can Help People With Disabilities

EITC and Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) are two vital resources that are underutilized. The EITC when coupled with the use of a VITA location and financial literacy is a proven strategy to help low-income individuals raise themselves out of poverty. To learn whether an individual is eligible for the EITC, visit the website below. The program will also assist in determining correct filing status, determining whether child(ren) meet the tests for a qualifying child, and estimate the amount of credit an individual may receive.
