"To be honest, there is nothing good about the death of a child.
It is the life you lead afterward that creates the good....

God always gives us a choice.

Even when we think we have no options, we do....

I have come to believe that

Angela was a gift,
an incredible, four-pound, eight ounce treasure that many people spend their lives seeking, but which I was privileged to hold."
